105 Tips To Get Your Internet Business Noticed And Profiting!

1. Author A Publication

You can write your own publication about any topic. You should do research first so as to fill a want in an audience or market with money to spend. Otherwise you can waste a lot of time. You can sell it yourself and keep all the profits or deal through other distributors and share the profit.

2. Co-Author A Publication

You can write a publication along with another author. You could sell it separately or both sell it and split the profits. You could also have multiple co-authors.

3. Compile A Publication

You could allow other authors and experts to write the publication for you in exchange for free publicity or other incentives. You would simply contact the authors and experts you want and ask them to donate some content.

4. Start An Affiliate Program For The Publication

You could allow other people to sell your publication for a percentage of the profits. You could eventually have literally thousands of people promoting your product with very little work on your part and no out-of-pocket expenses.

5. Sell The Reprint Rights To The Publication

You can allow others to sell the publication for 100% of the profits (just as I have done here with this ebook). You could include ads for other products that you're selling for a back-end, which means the sale of your other items through the ads.

6. Sell The Master Reprint Rights To The Publication

You could allow other people to sell the publication and the reprint rights to the publication (again, just as I have done here). You could still include ads of your other products.

7. Give Away The Publication

You could allow people to give away the publication to their prospects, customers, visitors, subscribers, etc. Of course, ads to your other products would be included in it. This will easily spread you advertising and potential sales all over the place

8. Give Away A Branded Copy Of The Publication

You could allow other people to give away the publication and allow them place their own ads in it. This gives them an extra incentive to give it away to their prospects, customers, visitors, subscribers, etc.

9. Sell A Branded Copy Of Your Publication

You could allow other people to give away the publication as their own and charge them to place their ads in it.

10. Start A MLM/Multi-Tier Affiliate Program For The Publication

You could allow other people to sell your publication for a percentage of the profits. They can also make commission from people they recruit. You could eventually have literally thousands on people promoting your product with very little work on your part.

11. Publication Of The Month

You could release a new publication every month for a reoccurring monthly fee. For example $19.95 a month per copy sold. This would give you a residual income stream. Plus you could start an affiliate program for other to make a percentage of your residual income.

12. Publication Of The Month With Master Reprint/Reprint Rights

You could release a new publication with reprint or master reprint rights every month for a reoccurring monthly fee. For example $19.95 a month. This would give you a residual income stream. Plus you could start an affiliate program for other to make a percentage of your residual income and people could make money 100% profit selling the publications.

13. Divide Your Publication Into Pieces

You could divide your publication into pieces and sell them separately. Sometime you can make more income selling parts than the whole product. You could divide up chapters into articles, mini reports, special reports, etc.

14. Publication For Royalties

You could write an exclusive publication for a big time publisher or marketer and allow them to promote it. You would get a percentage of the profits with hardly any work on your part in distribution.

15. Customized Publication

You could offer a customized publication instead of writing the whole thing and guessing what info people will buy. Just let them decide. You could charge people to e-mail you five to ten questions that they want the answers to then place that into a publication. You could charge a high price too.

16. Collectible Publication

You could offer a limited number of copies to different versions of your publication. Some reasons to limit the number of copies would be autographs, different volumes, serial numbers, etc.

17. Turn Other People's Information Formats Into A Publication

You could get permission from a publisher to transcribe an audio or video into a print or electronic publication. You would have nothing to write and you could just pay them an up-front fee or royalties on your sales.

18. Turn Your Publication Into A Free Seminar Speech

You do live speeches that are related to your publication. You could offer it for free in exchange for promoting your publication or business.

19. Turn Your Publication Into An Off-line Audio

You could turn your publication into an audio book, or DVD. Some people like to listen to publications rather than read them.

20. Turn Your Publication Into An Off-line Video

You could turn your publication into a videotape or DVD. Some people like to listen to and watch the people speaking and offering the information rather than reading it.

21. Update An Older/Outdated Publication

You could find a older or outdated publication and simply update it with new up-to-date information. You could just get permission from a publisher and pay them an up-front fee or royalties on your sales.

22. Turn Your Publication Into Home Study

You could add lessons and exercises to your publication and sell it as a home study course. You can give a certificate of completion and graduation after they send in the completed lessons.

23. Turn Your Publication Into An eClass

You could divide your publication into lessons and assignments and send them out once or twice a week via e-mail. You grade the lessons and send them back. You could run an eclass for weeks at a time then hold another one all over again or an advanced one.

24. Turn You Publication Into A Sample

32. Give Away Your Publication And Charge For Updates

You could give away your publication and have an offer that sells monthly updates for it. You charge either a one time fee or per installment. If people like your publication, they will likely pay for the updates.

33. Give Away Your Publication And Charge For Extras

Give away your publication and have an offer for extra features of your publication. It could be leather covers, special types of paper, autographs, hard covers, extra-uncut chapters, different versions (audio, video, ebook print, etc.).

34. Unedited/Uncut/Uncensored Publication

You could sell an unedited, uncut, uncensored version of your publication. If you don't want to worry about editing, spell checking, punctuation, etc., you could sell your e-info product as research or as-is. There are markets for this type of info. For example: "My Lost And Forgotten Notes On Internet Marketing" Buy them now! Unedited and Uncut!

35. Others Give Away Your Publication And You Charge Them For Bulk Quantities

You could have others give away your publication and you receive a bulk purchase sale. For example a business may want 100 copies of your publication to give to their employees. You could charge them a lower cost per item because of the large quantity that you're selling.

36. Charge For Your Publication Or Trade To Get Traffic

You could write an ad for the publication and actually set up an ordering option for it. You give your prospects the option of getting it at no cost if they link to or advertise your web site. It's very persuasive because they'll receive a product you're selling for free. What a bargain!

37. Catalog Publication

You could allow multiply businesses to place their ad or link in your catalog in exchange for them giving away the catalog to their prospects, visitors, subscribers, customers, etc. You would of course have your ad in the front of the publication. It would be a catalog full of related products.

38. Package Your Publication With Other Products

You could ask similar but non-competing businesses to create a package deal. You would sell your publications or product together in one package deal. You would split the profit or each sells them separately for 100% of the profits.

39. Trade Reprint Rights

You could also record it a sell it as a audio or video.

103. Host A Live Seminar

You could ask experts to speak at your teleseminar. The speaker often seeks to place their products for sale. That may be sufficient for their time and fee. If you have approval, you may record that seminar for later use. Possibly to be used as a bonus if with good content. At the beginning, it may be required to give the large share of fees collected from attendees to the speaker.

104. Host A Live Workshop/Coaching Session

You ask coaches and experts to help at your workshop. A workshop is mainly getting one-on-one, how-to help. This is like the seminar approach. Since it involves more direct contact, the audience may be smaller. A larger fee would be charged too. A bit harder to sell after-the-fact items since it is usually more visual. A video would be best but requires a considerable outlay for you. Definitely get approval from the speaker!

105. Host A Live Brainstorm/Mastermind Event

You ask recognized experts to speak at your mastermind event. A mastermind event is people getting together brainstorming and sharing ideas. Since there is a sharing, best to do some work in advance to make sure all are qualified and able to contribute. Not a place for wallflowers or only listeners. An active flow is required. An excellent thing for archiving but, again, it requires approval from all contributing.
